NANCY GOLDNER WITH MERRILL ASHLEY BALANCHINE VARIATIONS

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 6:30 P.M.
THE NEW YORK SOCIETY LIBRARY, 53 EAST 79TH STREET (AT MADISON)
$10 in advance/$15 at the door

The twentieth century's foremost name in classical choreography, George Balanchine has inspired a wide range of art, thought, and criticism. Nancy Goldner's Balanchine Variations is being hailed as the new definitive companion to the great master's work. The New Yorker calls it "an indispensable guide to dancers and spectators alike"; the New York Times says that "she has the best ear for music and dance musicality of any dance critic writing today...[and] best of all, Ms. Goldner is a true writer." In the New York Review of Books, dance critic Robert Gottlieb writes, "The only serious quarrel one can have with Balanchine Variations is that there isn't more of it...[it] immediately takes its place among the half-dozen or so essential books on George Balanchine."

This event will include personal stories of Balanchine, his technique and performance style, New York City Ballet lore, and the current state of classical ballet.

Nancy Goldner is also the author of The Stravinsky Festival of the New York City Ballet. She has been the dance critic of The Nation, The Saturday Review of Literature, The Christian Science Monitor, and The Philadelphia Inquirer, and has also written about dance for The New York Times, Raritan, and Dance Now. She was the education director of the Balanchine Foundation and conducted its annual lecture program, often appearing with Merrill Ashley, and also served as director of Duke University's Dance Critics Workshop.

Merrill Ashley, a celebrated principal dancer with the New York City Ballet, is the author of Dancing for Balanchine (1984). The leading role in Balanchine's Dallo della Regina was created for her. She is currently Teaching Associate at the NYCB, and she stages Balanchine's ballets in companies around the country under the auspices of the Balanchine Trust. She has lectured on Balanchine across the country.

THE NEW YORK SOCIETY LIBRARY

Founded 1754

LIBRARY HOURS:

DIRECTORY:

The New York Society Library, the oldest in the city, was founded in 1754 by the New York Society, a civic-minded group formed in the belief that the availability of books would help the city to prosper. A subscription library, it now contains nearly three hundred thousand volumes -- the result of the tastes of its members over almost the last quarter millennium.

Although this is primarily a library for the general reader, it has considerable potential for research. Holdings may be searched using either the Library's card catalogs or its catalog. Members may borrow books and have the use of several reading and study rooms on the upper floors; they can also browse in the stacks. Non-members are invited without charge to use the ground floor for reading and reference.

The Library is a not-for-profit corporation supported by its membership fees, by income from its endowment (built largely from bequests), and by contributions, which are tax-deductible.

When It's Organized...

You know where to look for it.

You don't have to move something to get it.

You can tell someone where to find it.

You know where it should be found...

even if you've never gotten it
before.

You know where to put it back.

You don't have to move something to put it back.

You can tell someone where to put it away.

You know where it should be put away...

even if you've never put one away
before.

—Wallace Judd
